

Beneficiary Information

A Justice or Judge cannot designate a beneficiary for his or her retirement account. Depending upon the length of service and status at time of death, a benefit may be payable to a surviving spouse or the deceased Justice or Judge's estate. See Surviving Spouse Benefits in each section.